

Working with Children Check

BACKGROUND

Following discussions between the EDFL and the Umpires Association it was agreed appropriate that all umpires over the age of eighteen and coaches actively involved in the EDFL must obtain a Working with Children Check (WWCC).

WWCC

The WWCC must be obtained by all umpires, coaches and officials over 18 years of age. Only umpires, coaches and officials who are exempt from providing a WWCC under current legislation are exempt from this requirement. However, the exemptions that will be accepted by the EDFL are limited to (along with the conditions covering the following professions in the relevant legislation):

- Current registered teachers;
- Victorian or Australian Federal police officers; and
- Some accredited drivers (e.g. taxi/commercial bus drivers).

The EDFL, as an employer and volunteer organization has a responsibility to:

- ensure that the appropriate people have undergone the WWCC by the timeline indicated below;
- a volunteer check has not been used for employment purposes;
- ensure that members who are exempt from lodging a Volunteer WWCC (due to an exemption provided by current legislation) provide evidence of their exemption.

The responsibility for ensuring that a member either holds a current WWCC or applicable exemption rests solely with each member.

EVIDENCE OF WWCC

Successful application for a WWCC will be notified to the EDFL by the Department of Justice. Once formal notification is received, details of the card number and date of issue will be entered into the relevant membership database(s). If you currently hold a WWCC card could you please provide a copy to the EDFL so we can record the details.

NEGATIVE NOTICE

Any official who is issued a Negative Notice will be suspended until the Negative Notice is withdrawn.

IMPLEMENTATION TIME LINE

We would anticipate all current EDFL umpires and coaches to be approved or have applied for a WWCC prior to round one of the 2017 season.

Any umpire, coach to the EDFL or current official must hold a current valid WWCC or have applied for a WWCC within 28 days of whichever of the following occurs first:

- Member reaches 18 years of age; or
- Date application for membership as an EDFL umpire or coach is lodged; or

- Previous WWCC expiry date.

Inability to provide either the WWCC, evidence of an application for a WWCC being lodged, or an exemption as provided by current legislation by an umpire, coach or official will result in either rejection and/or suspension of his/her EDFL affiliation.
