10.10 - 10.40am	Club Governance	Sponsorship and Marketing	Engaging Multicultural Communities
	John Larkins - Barrister and Aberfeldie Football Club President John has been a senior committee person at the Aberfeldie Sports Club Inc. (ASC) for over 20 years. This included serving on the junior committee initially, then a period of 2 years as Chairman of the Sports Club, from 2002 to 2008 he acted as both Chair of the ASC and President of the senior football section of the club. He has retained the latter position to the present day. For 40 years he has been a Barrister, initially with a broad practice but now working mainly in the liquor licensing and hospitality area. In this session John will discuss the importance and relationship of club structure and volunteer role development to governance in a local sporting environment as well as the challenges in achieving compliance with legal obligations at "grass roots" level.	Rob Threfall - Senior Consultant, TD Community Solutions Rob was CFO at the Geelong FC for 15 years and previously worked in senior management for Newcrest Mining both in Australia and Indonesia. He founded Aqive Business Consulting in 2015 offering interim mgt, business strategy & planning, sports consultancy, strategic philanthropy & executive coaching services across many industries and sectors. He is also a senior consultant with Advanced Club Administration (ACA). ACA is the A-Z of successfully running your community sports club, via education (access to 160+ short videos & an online "filing cabinet" of spreadsheets, document templates), direction (health checks and tailored action plans) & support (you can call or email us!). Rob is a CPA, a graduate of AICD and an Executive Education Program at Harvard Business School, Boston. He is currently Vice-Pres of St Joseph's Football and Netball Club, Geelong, having held various positions over the years. This session will provide clubs with insight into optimizing current revenue streams and developing new avenues. We will also look at establishing a strong brand reputation, then exploiting it.	Andrew Ainger - Multicultural Participation Manager, AFL Vic The following workshop will be presented by Andrew Ainger (AFL Victoria), Samuel Malual (North Melbourne FC) and Sudip Chakraborty (Essendon FC). Andrew took up the Multicultural Participation Manager role with AFL Victoria in 2017 having previously worked in this sector at the SANFL. Samuel came to Australia as a refugee at age 12, since then been involved in various sports, especially AFL. Sam is a young African community leader in Melbourne's Western suburbs and has been involved with a number of local AFL clubs and is able to identify and address the barriers to participation for diverse communities from direct experience. Sam's role at the North Melbourne Football Club, in partnership with AFL Victoria and Werribee FC, is to work with and encourage Junior Football Clubs to create the most safe, welcoming, and inclusive environments for all people and especially for communities who are currently underrepresented in our game. Sudip moved from India to Australia in 2016 after many years as president of AFL India. Currently Sudip is working with the Essendon FC to engage Multicultural groups and assist with the clubs Indian strategy. Participants will be informed of various club experiences adopted to help educate volunteers in recognising different cultural behaviours and opportunities to engage families from diverse multicultural communities. Clubs will gain ideas and initiatives to develop their own inclusive action plan with short, medium and long-term strategies that will better equip them to introduce targeted recruiting and retention programs to attract players and their families from different cultural background.

11.00 - 11.30AM	Managing Club Risk & Reputation	Allowable Player Payments & Player Points	Child Safety
	Kerry Gassner - Integrity Operations Manager AFL Kerry spent 15 years with Victoria Police (Serious & Organised Crime, Homicide, Sporting Integrity Intelligence Unit) before joining the AFL Integrity and Security Department in 2016. He has a background in local football at Eastern FL & VAFA clubs together with extensive history in professional baseball in playing, coaching and administration from community to elite level. This session will provide an overview of the AFL Integrity & Security Department & the AFL's integrity approach, a snapshot of what is happening at state & community football, what the risks are at your club & league (reputation risk), topics on the horizon (Child Safeguarding, Respect & Responsibility, Wagering, Organised Crime) and key takeaways.	Darryl Collings - Club Sustainability & Affiliates Manager AFL Vic Darryl's role at AFL Victoria includes liaising with all Metropolitan Leagues, Managing Region Development Managers (Nth/East/Southern metro) & the implementation the Allowable Player Payment framework & the Player Points system. Darryl has also served on Club Committees for over 20 years, predominantly in the Treasurer and Football Operations roles. Prior to moving into the football industry, he was a manager at Price Waterhouse Coopers. This session will provide clubs with detail on the introduction and administration of the Allowable Player Payments and Points Systems framework, including clubs responsibilities, background and purpose of APP and Player points system, Player Points System – Overview of Club Administration & APP - Overview of Club Administration	Meg McArthur - Community Football Program Coordinator, AFL Vic Meg has nine years' experience working in football program operations at the Calder Cannons including the last two at AFL Victoria overseeing at community football the implementation of rules, regulations and policies at community football level working closely with volunteers and all that is included in running a football Club. She is currently a part of the AFL Safeguarding Children Policy working group, developing expectations and guidelines to ensure all levels of football are keeping our children safe. This session will include awareness of child abuse, why this is an important topic for football to work on, what your Club needs to be putting in place to ensure all children that take part in football are kept safe. Research has found over 350 000 reports of child abuse are made every year, but one third of people don't know how to recognise or deal with this issue. Child Safety is a vital area of development across all sporting organisations in Australia, and AFL Victoria are working to give all Clubs areas to continually consider on this journey to improve our environments for all involved.
11.40 - 12.10am	Club Planning	Grants Funding & Government Relationships	Conflict Resolution Strategies to Deal with Difficult People
	Rob Threfall - Senior Consultant, TD Community Solutions Rob was CFO at the Geelong FC for 15 years and previously worked in senior management for Newcrest Mining both in Australia and Indonesia. He founded Aqive Business Consulting in 2015 offering interim mgt, business strategy & planning, sports consultancy, strategic philanthropy & executive coaching services across many industries and sectors. He is also a senior consultant with Advanced Club Administration (ACA). ACA is the A-Z of successfully running your community sports club, via education (access to 160+ short videos & an online "filing cabinet" of spreadsheets, document templates), direction (health checks and tailored action plans) & support (you can call or email us!). Rob is a CPA, a graduate of AICD and an Executive Education Program at Harvard Business School, Boston. He is currently Vice-Pres of St Joseph's Football and Netball Club, Geelong, having held various positions over the years. This session will provide clubs with insight into how to best structure up your Committee and develop a strategic plan, then importantly communicate the plan and assess progress.	Patrick Moriarty - Training Manager, Our Community Group Patrick provides business development and training expertise to Our Community having extensive business management expertise in his existing and previous management roles. Our Community is a national organisation providing information, support, advice, resources and training for community groups across Australia – among its resources is Australia's leading grants newsletter, Easy Grants, that provides a monthly summary of all of Australia's grants from Federal, State and Local Government, Philanthropic and Corporate Trusts. In this session we'll focus on the key things your club needs to have in place to be successful in accessing grants funding.	Murray Ashby - Inspector Victoria Police Murray is currently responsible for the management of misconduct investigations and workplace conflict resolutions in the Southern Metropolitan Police Region. A registered psychologist with significant experience in conflict resolution strategies and executive coaching programs. Murray has been actively involved in the football environment for a number of years as a player at Richmond VFL, East Burwood (EFL), Box Hill and Northcote (VFA) and more recently as the coach co-ordinator at the Kilsyth Junior Football Club. All club leaders and their committee members encounter some type of conflict within the club from time to time and often rely on their "learned experience" to respond rather than a combination of learned experience and an evidence-based framework. This session will be of interest to those seeking to be exposed to some of the principles of the current evidence-based conflict resolution strategies in an effort to minimise any negative outcomes from conflict.
12.20 - 12.50am	Facility Management	Volunteer Recruitment & Management	Media Strategies
	Shayne Ward - Strategy Government & Infrastructure Manager, AFL Vic Shayne's role at AFL Victoria is primarily around driving organisational strategy, and overseeing the relationships with various government bodies.
